How would you describe your overall internship experience during your final year of faculty?

My internship experience was incredibly enriching and engaging. It provided me with an amazing opportunity to develop essential skills for a career in the Clinical Research industry. Through this experience, I realized that this is a field I would gladly pursue after earning my degree.

What were your main responsibilities during your internship, and how did they align with your expectations?

During my internship, I had the unique opportunity to work across three different teams: Quality Assurance, Content Writing, and Acceleroute. My responsibilities varied across these roles, from reading and uploading documents, reviewing scientific papers, and writing summaries, to drafting emails to sites, providing ongoing support to CRAs, and ensuring that all uploaded documents were accurate.

How did the internship help you develop new skills, both professionally and personally?

The internship significantly enhanced my time management skills and professional communication. I also made valuable new connections. Professionally, I gained a deeper understanding of Clinical Research, Quality Assurance, Marketing, and how a company operates as a whole.

How did you manage the demands of your internship while keeping up with your final-year studies?

My mentors were very supportive of my academic commitments, allowing me ample time to prepare for exams while keeping up with my internship tasks. I was also able to maintain a healthy balance between work and personal life.

What advice would you give to current students who are about to start their internship or who are looking for one?

Don't hesitate to ask questions! Everyone understands that as interns, we're still learning, and they're more than willing to help at every step. Be eager to learn, and everything else will fall into place.

If you could go back and change one thing about your internship experience, what would it be?

If I could go back, I would be more proactive in asking questions early on. At the beginning, everything felt new, and the terminology was unfamiliar, so I wish I had sought more clarification when I needed it.
